Island Loggers To Hold Parley On Strike Vote

Policy Committee Urges Rejection Of Report by Conciliation Board

Vancouver Island locals of the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A.-C.C.L.), representing some 9,000 of a total of 32,000 coastal lumber workers, will meet between now and Sunday to discuss a recent conciliation award rejecting their major demands and possible strike action.

An immediate strike vote has been demanded by the I.W.A. policy committee following meetings yesterday in Vancouver.

HEAVY TASK

The demand will throw one of the heaviest tasks to date on British Columbia's Labor Relations Board, which will have the job of supervising the strike ballot.

Victoria I.W.A. Local 1-118, which has a membership of approximately 1,000, will meet Friday night at Broad Street Auditorium.

The union's policy committee has recommended rejection by member locals of the conciliation report.

The report turned down union demands for 15-cent-an-hour wage increases, union shop and other concessions.

It also rejected a proposal by operators for a 13-cent-an-hour wage cut.

Between 250 and 300 operations in the coastal areas will be affected if the loggers walk out.

Decision of the lumber operators to accept or reject the conciliation board's recommendations will not be known for ten days, R. V. Stuart, president of Forest Industrial Research, employers' representative, said yesterday.

The board report will have to be submitted to operators individually, Mr. Stuart said.

NOT BINDING

The conciliation award is not legally binding on either party.

The breakaway Woodworker's Industrial Union, currently negotiating for three operations in the coastal region, yesterday appealed to the membership to back the I.W.A. in rejection of the majority award and in any strike move.

"Negotiations between lumber loggers and operators are still proceeding, with the union seeking 20-cent-an-hour increases and management, wage cuts.

Forces Pledge Support To Tito if Fight Begins

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 24 (AP)—The air force and the future leaders of Yugoslavia's best army units pledged to fight today against any aggression.

There seemed little likelihood that this tough little country's offer to settle her row with Russia over Communist politics would ease the tension soon.

Foreign observers believed the feud had gone too far and too deep, particularly since Yugoslavia has clearly stated she is not going to climb down from her position of independence from Moscow in domestic and foreign affairs.

A letter to Marshal Tito from the air force declared: "Conscious of the situation we are in, we are prepared to defend our Socialist homeland against anyone—no matter from which side it comes."

Another message to the Moscow-trained guerrilla chieftain who became the defiant leader of the country was from the School of the Corps for National Defence, where leaders of crack army units are given military and political training.

"In the world has appeared a new fortress of socialism and peace, Yugoslavia, which is now being attacked. We are proud to be members of the Yugoslav Communist party and we shall be ready to defend our homeland, no matter from whom, under your leadership," said this message.

(The Moscow press continued to attack Marshal Tito furiously Wednesday. So far it had not printed or commented on the Yugoslav note of Tuesday offering to negotiate "all disputed questions.")

"The Soviet newspaper published a cartoon depicting the Yugoslav Premier as a dog reaching for a sack of Wall Street gold. Pravda and Ivestia used many columns to report reaction in Hungary, Czechoslovakia, the Chinese Communist press and elsewhere to Moscow's charge that Tito is a terrorist Fascist enemy of the Soviet Union and all Communist parties.)

Sees 'Anarchy' In Finn Labor

HELSINKI, Finland, Aug. 24 (AP)—Prime Minister Karl A. Fagerholm tonight predicted a period of "anarchy" in Finnish labor as a result of expulsion of four insurgent unions from the powerful Trade Union Federation.

Noisy Milkman Evading Check by Constabulary

City police are still trying to catch the noisy milkman who wakes up A. McLeod Bain, 1003 Amphion Street, at an early hour every morning.

The noisy milkman, according to one of the many complaints, also wakes up Mrs. Bain with the noise he makes backing his truck down the street.

Mr. Bain appeared in person at the police station to register his first complaint. That was on August 18.

"He wakes me every morning between 6:30 and 6:40 a.m.," he reported bitterly.

WANTS IN VAIN

The next morning a police constable waited in vain from 8:30 to 8:45 in the neighborhood of the complainant's residence without hearing a sound.

Five minutes after the constable got back to the station Mr. Bain phoned.

"He's done it again," he said

Wreckage of R.C.A.F. Canso Plane

The picture above, transmitted to The Colonist last night by A.P. Wirephoto, shows wreckage of an R.C.A.F. Canso amphibious plane which became a funeral pyre for 21 persons after it crashed into 100-foot lull in Northern Manitoba. The twin-engine aircraft rammed into the bushland while the pilot apparently was trying to set the plane down on one of the many small lakes which dot the countryside, in an effort to slit out a thunder storm. Plane was on a 500-mile flight from Churchill to Winnipeg.

Girl Safe

CHILLIWACK, B. C., Aug. 24 (CP).—A nineteen-year-old Mission, B.C., girl, Kathleen Rooney, has survived a 36-hour ordeal in the rugged Chilliwack Lake area, about 75 miles east of Vancouver. She was flown here by emergency plane late today.

She was found by a search party in a dazed condition.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 24 (AP).—Four prisoners tunneled under the walls of the Washington State Prison tonight and one is still at large, prison officials said.

B.C. Weather Went Wrong, Not Forecast

With the weather in British Columbia generally going dead against the rules, the local weatherman was not too embarrassed yesterday about his wide-of-the-mark forecast for Victoria.

His forecast called for sunny weather with light winds.

But at the end of the day he had to admit that the sunshine quota had been exactly nil.

Elsewhere in the province weather conditions were quite unusual. Prince Rupert, for example, had fine sunny weather while the rest of the province was drenched in clouds.

Hottest spot in British Columbia was Ashcroft, where the temperature climbed to 76, for an area that can get warm enough to bake a potato in late August, the 75 reading was chilly.

The trend today is toward rising pressures, the weatherman says, meaning that in Victoria it is going to continue cloudy, with a few glimpses of the sun scheduled for this afternoon.

Quebec M.P.'s Given Bench, Cabinet Posts

OTTAWA, Aug. 24 (CP).—Prime Minister St. Laurent tonight announced the appointment of two of his Quebec Cabinet Ministers to the Bench and the promotion of two young Quebec members to Government ranks.

Postmaster-General Bertrand, 60-year-old lawyer and Liberal Member of the Commons for Montreal Laurier since 1935, has been appointed to the Quebec Court of King's Bench, Montreal Division. He will be replaced in the Cabinet by Hughes Lapointe, 38-year-old M.P. for the Quebec constituency of Lotbiniere and son of the late Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Federal Justice Minister.

SIX VACANCIES

The appointments related to six of the number of vacancies in the Commons elected in the general election of June 27. No dates for by-elections have yet been fixed, but Mr. St. Laurent said they will be held this year.

The new standing of the Commons is: Liberals, 189; Progressive Conservatives, 49; C.C.F., 12; Social Credit, 10; Independent, 4; Independent Liberal, 1; vacant, 5. Total, 262.

Maurice Bouthier, Liberal Member for Nicolet-Yamaska, and Arthur Laing, Liberal Member for Vancouver South, have been chosen to move and second the Address in Reply to the Throne Speech in the Commons.

Mr. St. Laurent made the announcements at a press conference following a three-hour meeting of the Cabinet.

During the conference, Mr. St. Laurent made these disclosures: 1. No other Cabinet changes are contemplated at the present time. 2. He has told Premier Campbell of Manitoba that a Dominion-Provincial conference on taxation matters will be called at least a year prior to the expiration of present taxation agreements in 1952. 3. A Dominion-Provincial conference will be called prior to 1951 if the prospects for accomplishing something concrete are bright.

Training School in City Seen for Food Handlers

Still in the stages of planning, a training school for food handlers is soon to be established in Victoria on a trial basis.

With the co-operation of labor unions and the local branch of the Canadian Restaurant Association, some 20 city restaurants have been signed up as a pilot group to gauge the effectiveness of the training school idea.

Plans have been worked out by D. W. R. Smith, city sanitary inspector, and Keith MacDonald, public health educator for the City Health Department.

"We hope to be able to lay the groundwork for a type of training which will assist all food handlers—management and staff included—to understand the importance of cleanliness in their work," explained Mr. Smith.

TO HOLD CLASSES

Health literature outlining the basic points for the guidance of food handlers is being distributed among the staffs of the restaurants forming the experimental group. Classes will be held with moving pictures outlining the do's and don'ts of food handling.

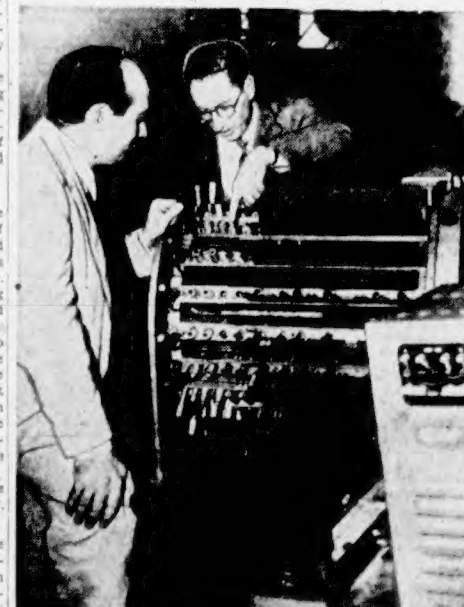

When they have had a chance to study and understand the literature supplied them and to assimilate the teaching received in class, restaurant workers will be asked to write an examination similar in type to the true or false, multiple choice examinations required of applicants for driver's licences.

Successful candidates will receive certificates testifying to their ability.

NO GRADING

No attempt will be made to grade restaurants A, B or C, a policy recently adopted in Vancouver. In the opinion of the City Health Department if a restaurant lives up to required health standards—and all of them operating in the city do—that is sufficient guarantee to the public that the premises are being kept in a sanitary condition. The food handlers course is not

Social Service Cut Looms for Britain

Action Described as Probable In Effort to Save Reserve

LONDON, Aug. 24 (INS).—An authoritative informant said tonight the Government is about to make extensive cuts in Britain's social services—a keystone of the Labor Party program.

The contemplated move was described as an attempt to halt Britain's steady dollar drain.

Reserves at the end of the third quarter are not expected to be more than $1,200,000,000.

This compares with reserves of

The 1949-50 social service budget is estimated at more than $2,500,000,000.

The informant pointed out that the more than a billion-dollar defence allocation is considered untouchable by economy pruners and therefore the social services must be slashed in an attempt to reduce the dollar drain.

These expenditures along with other Government expenses will be thrashed out in the course of the forthcoming Washington talks aimed at plugging the drain of British reserves.

Anthony Eden meanwhile delivered a warning against the Labor financial and economic policy and the related danger of a growing misunderstanding between Britain and the United States.

Eden said that Anglo-American misunderstanding permits "no one to gain except Moscow."

U.K. Plan Will Face Opposition

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP).—Britain will ask next month for the right to spend Marshall Plan dollars wherever she pleases, it was learned tonight on good authority. Specifically, she wants to use these recovery funds to buy Canadian wheat, as she did in the first year of Marshall Plan operation, informed sources said.

The catch to this suggestion is the strong objection of Congress to using Marshall Plan funds for Canadian wheat as long as the United States has a wheat surplus of its own.

Hits Parties On Beach In Oak Bay

Wild, all-night drinking parties have become a regular week-end feature at Willows Beach, last night's Oak Bay municipal council meeting was told.

In an angry letter to the council, Rosa Hagen, 2227 Beach Drive, charged that police "appear powerless" to control the beach parties which she said are "allowed to go on and get worse every summer."

"They come in droves with beer or whisky which we can see them drinking behind the bathing house," the woman complained.

"After that they begin to shriek and scream," she added.

"NO DIFFERENCE"

One night, she said, she phoned the police, but "if they came, it made no difference—we were kept awake until 3 a.m."

"I have always understood that drinking in public places was illegal," she remarked, adding if it is possible to close Uplands Park at 10 o'clock each night why was it not possible to close the Willows Beach at midnight.

"We have lived here for over 20 years and until the last four years the beach parties were never disturbing," she said.

"No one minds sing-songs, but these drinking parties should be prevented."

Churchill Rumored To Be Ill

NICE, France, Aug. 25 (Thursday) (INS).—Winston Churchill's private secretary refused today to confirm or deny a report that Britain's wartime premier had been taken ill suddenly at Lord Heaverbrook's villa in Southern France.

Repeated attempts to contact the Villa Cap d'Ail, where the 74-year-old Churchill is staying, were fruitless.

The unconfirmed report of Churchill's illness began circulating coincident with reports of the arrival of Lord Moran, King George VI's physician, at Nice.

Lord Moran helped treat King George for his recent circulatory ailment resulting from a blood clot that caused defective blood supply to the right foot.

Churchill was scheduled to fly to Strasbourg this morning.

(The British Press Association said Lord Moran had gone to the Heaverbrook villa on a vacation and quoted a member of the London household as saying "he has not gone there to treat Churchill.")

Will Inquire Into Death Of Driver in Smash-Up

Thomas Jones, 55, of 1135 McKenzie Street, was found slumped dead over the wheel of his car at 11 a.m. yesterday after a multiple accident at the intersection of Store and Cormorant Streets.

Police were unable to say with certainty whether he died before, during or after the traffic accident.

Coroner E. C. Hart has announced that an inquest will be held.

City police said the small car, driven south on Store Street by Mr.

Only apparent injury suffered by Mr. Jones was a small cut over one eye and another on his leg. A passenger, Kate Senior, visiting the Joneses from Vancouver, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital suffering from abrasions and shock.

Mr. Jones was pronounced dead on arrival at hospital.

A resident of Victoria for the past seven years, Mr. Jones was motor dispatcher at H.M.C. Dockyard, Esquimalt.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two daughters: Mrs. B. C. Nickel, Montreal, and Mrs. J. V. Shawcross, Vancouver.

Chaplin's Chapel is in charge of funeral arrangements.

THOMAS JONES

Jones, first collided with a flour truck, parked outside 1614 Store Street.

SECOND COLLISION

"After that collision, police reported, the car weaved further south on Store street to collide with a truck driven by Joseph H. Galway, 3651 Savannah Avenue.

Damage of $35 to the car and none to the truck resulted from the first collision. In the second the car was damaged to the extent of about $150 after colliding with the dual rear wheels of the truck.

Planes Better Sound's Speed

LONDON, Aug. 24 (Reuters).—Britain has two new secret jet fighters able to fly faster than sound, the Society of British Aircraft Constructors disclosed today. The planes are the Hawker P-102 and the Vickers Marine-Type 510. They are still on the official secret list, and the Ministry of Supply refused to comment on their speed.

A Mayo Clinic spokesman said Mr. Gardiner is sitting up and talking and that he probably will be discharged in about ten days.

Brief Public Ceremony To Mark Arena Opening

The Memorial Arena will be officially dedicated at a brief ceremony to be held in the new building at 3 p.m. on Sunday, September 25.

This announcement was made yesterday by Mayor George following a meeting of City Council, sitting as a committee of the whole, where it was decided that the ceremony should be free and open to the public.

The form and details of the dedication ceremony were left to the decision of the padres of the three armed services. Necessary arrangements, other than the form of the service, were left in the hands of the arena committee.

The dedication ceremony is to include the unveiling of a memorial plaque in the Blanshard Street entrance to the arena.

Following the dedication service, the city will turn over the keys of the arena to the Memorial Arena Commission, symbolizing the fact that the management of the building has been placed under the Commission's direction.

BANDS TO PLAY

When this has been done the doors of the arena will be thrown

Chinese Drop Arms by Air To Guerrillas Fighting Reds

CANTON, Aug. 24 (INS).—A Chinese Nationalist army spokesman said today his men have begun air-dropping ammunition to 40,000 armed peasants operating behind Communist lines "in a complete reversal" of civil war situation.

The spokesman, Maj. Gen. Chang

Yi-Ting, said the shifting fortunes in the Chinese conflict resulted in the reversal, adding:

REVERSAL OF FORM

"Now our forces are fighting guerrilla warfare in the country whereas it used to be the Communists who did this. The Communists are concentrating their regulars in the cities."

The Nationalists meanwhile have the Communists' blockade, is being extended another 130 miles, effective Saturday, to cover coastal areas lost to the Communists.

The blockade now reaches from the far northern Chinese coast to a point near Amoy, imperilled Nationalist port opposite Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's stronghold on the island of Formosa. Chiang, who flew from Formosa to Canton for military talks yesterday, proceeded by plane to the wartime capital of Chungking today for more such talks.

English Bay Entry Wins P.N.E. Title

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24 (CP).—Marjorie Hildebrand of Vancouver is going to need a few more days off. The 21-year-old blonde won the Pacific National Exhibition beauty queen title today and she has a busy schedule ahead—including a trip to Hollywood.

"I hope I can get my boss to give me another three days," she sighed when she learned that she had been chosen over the 11 other finalists.

Miss Hildebrand also receives a $1,000 scholarship of her own choosing. And if Marjorie has her way, she'll take a course in personnel work.

The five-foot-four English Bay entry, who was voted Miss Vancouver, won out in the final decision over Jean Ross, 17-year-old "Lady of the Lake" from Kelowna.

Minister Here To Discuss Housing Plans

Reconstruction Minister R. H. Winters is scheduled to come to Victoria today for talks on British Columbia's housing problems.

Mr. Winters met Premier Byron Johnson in Vancouver yesterday and is expected to return with the Premier today.

Premier Johnson promised in his policy speech to the Legislature this year that he would seek a conference between the Dominion and the Province on housing. While in Ottawa on P.C.E. financing, the Premier discussed housing but did not disclose what proposals had been put forth.

MR. R. H. WINTERS

No indication has been given as to what British Columbia would like in the way of a housing plan, but reports are that Premier Johnson is opposed to subsidies.

He reportedly favors a second mortgage plan, similar to Ontario's, which would reduce the amount of the down payment required on a new house under the present national housing scheme.

Mr. Winters has been visiting all provinces in the Dominion to obtain their views on housing problems. It is expected the information he gathers will form the basis of a new Federal housing scheme which will be laid before the coming session of Parliament.

In Vancouver yesterday he named as the two secret spots for housing the cities of Victoria and Toronto. The Dominion as a whole needs 300,000 units.

Vicount Alexander speaks several languages, including Russian and Hindustani.

Planes Patrol Fire Site For Flare-Up

PARIS, Aug. 24 (Reuters).—French Air Force planes kept constant patrol today over smouldering, charred pine forests near Bordeaux, but no major flare-up was reported in the stricken area.

Headquarters of Col. Jean-Marie Madruelle, who led the four-day battle against the flames, announced that all fires in the Gironde department now are under control.

That application of the death penalty for future cases of arson in the area is under consideration. Ten persons, including two women, have been arrested on charges in connection with the fires, Madruelle said.

He remained in constant touch with the spotting aircraft, which immediately reported any suspicious column of smoke.

James Island Man Dies in Victoria

Funeral services for Samuel Ernest Sidwell of James Island, who died yesterday in Royal Jubilee Hospital, will be held August 27, at 3 p.m., in McCall Brothers Funeral Chapel.

Mr. Sidwell, who was 49 at the time of his death, was a member of a pioneer Spanish family.

He is survived by his wife Ruth, a son Walter, a daughter Betty, of James Island and his father, Samuel Sidwell, Sr.

Burial will be in Shady Creek Cemetery.

CHELMSFORD, Essex, England (CP).—Three new secondary schools for Essex will be built at Hainault, Hornchurch and South Ockendon at an estimated cost of $123,000 ($492,000), $220,000 and $310,000 respectively.

U.S. Military Economy Cuts End 135,000 Civilian Jobs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (INS).—Defense Secretary Johnson today eliminated 135,000 civilian jobs and closed 51 Army, Navy and Air Force installations as 250 members of Congress protested his drastic economy drive.

Johnson estimated that the ax-wielding program will save $200,000,000 during the 1950 fiscal year, $500,000,000 after one full year and eventually a $1,000,000,000 annual saving.

CLOSING IS AIR BASES

The shut-down order affects 18 air force bases. The navy shipyard at Long Beach, Calif., employing 3,800 workers, was the largest establishment ordered closed. Some 400 employees will remain for maintenance purposes.

Other bases and plants which must reduce personnel were given employment ceilings effective until December 1.

Today's action means the dismissal of 76,000 civilian employees from the navy, 41,000 from the army and 18,000 from the air force.

Johnson's wholesale belt-tightening program brought a swarm of Senators and Congressmen to his office in an effort to temper the economy drive.

Sen. Knowland (Rep. Calif.), expressed a representative opinion. He said that "either the navy has not been right up to now" or the

Stripped-Down Spitfire Will Represent Canada

EDMONTON, Aug. 24 (CP).—One of Britain's top wartime fighter pilots will carry Canada's colors in the Cleveland air races next month with a stripped-down Spitfire in which he hopes to earn himself $16,000. It is believed to be the first Canadian entry in the race's 16-year history.

The four-year-old Spitfire is the same type of plane in which Ptl. Lt. James Henry Gordon McArthur, D.F.C., shot down 13 enemy aircraft during the Battle of Britain. He protective armor and tuned it up in test flights here. After one flight he said he hoped to fly at better than 400 miles an hour during the races.

Air races are not new to the English-born pilot. In 1934 he acted as radio-navigator in the England-Australia air race and the following year was co-pilot and radio-navigator for Capt. T. Campbell-Blick on a record flight from England to Africa and back.

McArthur joined the R.A.F. in 1936 and was shot down into the English Channel; but not before he bagged 13 enemy craft. He soon got back into flying, and later was loaned to the R.C.A.F. for three years for instrument flying and radio flight aids work.

TEST FLYING

He found civilian life didn't "take" when he came to Canada in 1947, and joined the R.C.A.F. in 1948. Since then he has been doing test flying and Winter experimental flying.

The charges against Von Manstein include accusations that he illegally compelled Russians to do forced labor.

"Our line will be that no nation can complain of practices which she herself carries out," Defence Lawyer R. T. Paget said.

Children Enjoy Yachting Cruise

Cruisers of Royal Victoria and Capital City Yacht Clubs joined forces yesterday to stage "Children's Day" program which will not be forgotten by almost 150 boys and girls who participated in two-hour cruise, clubhouse picnic, and entertainment program. Nearly 50 vessels took part, many of them seen in this general scene taken at Cadboro Bay clubhouse.

It was entirely new and wonderful experience for practically all children. Each was presented with cap and colorful "waiver" prior to two-hour cruise. Group of youngsters above were aboard R. S. Olson's trim cruiser Manana. Children, left to right, are: Billy Kendall, Mary Malden, Steve Kendall, Marie Kendall, Don Kendall and Kenneth Kendall. To the right are Mr. and Mrs. Olson.

Yacht Clubs' "Children's Day" Triumphs Over Drizzly Skies

Skies were grey and weather was drizzly, but spirits were in no way dampened for about 150 boys and girls who were taken on a two-hour cruise and given a clubhouse picnic yesterday afternoon in a "Children's Day" program sponsored by the Capital City and Royal Victoria Yacht Clubs.

For the children—who otherwise might not have had such an opportunity—the day proved memorable. They were taken to the Cadboro Bay clubhouse of the R.V.Y.C. in specially chartered buses, arriving at the scene shortly after 1 p.m., and fitted at once with life jackets.

Then the children were designated to various vessels in which they automatically became honored guests. Every imaginable precaution for their well-being and protection was taken, and those in charge of the event are confident it will become an annual affair.

The two-hour cruise covered a course from Cadboro Bay to and around Ten Mile Point, along the coastline to St. Margaret's Bay and return. Close to 50 powered cruisers were used in the cruise.

The cruiser procession—consisting of vessels of the two yachting fraternities—was led by R.V.Y.C. Commodore Dr. R. J. Wride's vessel Cherie and C.C.Y.C. Commodore Harold Honshella's trim Yaldro.

Returning to the clubhouse, the children were served hot dogs, milk, soft drinks, candy and ice cream. In an entertainment program that concluded their day they watched Magician Frank Merryfield and heard rhythm provided by the Cubanaires band.

Finally, the children were placed on buses at 6 p.m. and taken to their various destinations.

Those in charge of the afternoon program—particularly E. Lersch, of H.M.C.S. Naden, the picnic will feature all types of entertainment, including a pony ride, clowns, games, miniature railroad, booths with games of skill, motorcycle act, fish pond and races with prizes.

FORESTRY MEETINGS

Fifty members of the Vancouver Island section of the Canadian Society of the Forest Engineers will meet at Campbell River Friday and Saturday. It was stated yesterday.

Included in the group also will be foresters from Vancouver and from the Pacific Northwest States.

The foresters will inspect reforestation projects carried out by the B.C. Forest Service in the Campbell River area and on Saturday morning will visit the John Hart Power Development.

Business meetings will be held at Campbell River.

Girls Injured In Accident

The girls were treated at Royal Jubilee Hospital for bruises and shock after they were knocked down in an accident at Port and Douglas Streets at 9:05 p.m. yesterday.

The two, Hilda Hutchinson, 3848 Lancaster Road, and Anne Rothwell, 2124 McLaren Avenue, were crossing Port Street at the time of the accident, police said.

Driver of the car involved in the accident was Barry Lee, Langley, B.C., according to police report.

Happy Ending Indicated For Mike

The story of Mike, the Rhesus monkey that escaped from the Royal Canadian Shows here recently and spent a gay week of freedom among the groves of West Victoria, may yet have a happy ending.

Tuesday it looked as though Mike might be due for "a painless death" following his capture by the local S.P.C.A. A spokesman for the humane society said that the organization frowned on the policy of keeping monkeys in captivity.

But last night S.P.C.A. officials were considering releasing Mike to a private citizen after a number of persons "with experience in handling monkeys" had come forward with offers to take over his care.

CHECK "CREDENTIALS"

At last reports officials were preparing to check the credentials of prospective "parents" for Mike with a view to finding him a permanent home.

In the meantime, they said, he had a lot more room at the animal shelter than in "a cramped cage" with the carnival.

And Mike was in no danger of getting lonesome—crowds of curious citizens were reported to have visited the animal shelter since Mike's capture to see the famous escapee at close quarters.

NAMED IN DISPUTE

Cancellation officer W. T. McLaughlin of Victoria has been named to assist Marshall Wells (B.C.) Ltd. and the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union, Local 535, both of Vancouver, in negotiating a collective agreement. It was announced yesterday by the Labor Relations Board.

The dispute, over wages, working conditions, union recognition, promotions, seniority and sick leave, involves about 120 employees.

NEW-TYPE SIDEWALKS

A new method of laying concrete is being tried out by the city engineer's department in the construction of a sidewalk on Southgate Street, between Rupert and Vancouver Streets, Assistant City Engineer J. G. Archer disclosed yesterday.

If the process proves practical it will speed up the work on similar jobs to be undertaken by the city, he added.

Mr. Archer explained that with the new process concrete is mixed with an admixture of a substance known as Checol to make it flow more freely. It is then poured over rocks and gravel forming the bed of the sidewalk. He said that the gravel aggregate is usually mixed with the concrete before it is poured.

JUST "LINGERER"

City police, called on reports of a prowler on Selkirk Street, found the prowler to be a Vancouver man sitting in his car outside the complaining address at 4:30 a.m. yesterday.

After investigation they found there had been a party there and that the man in the car had refused to leave.

He left then.

Convict Victoria Driver After Three Injured

Robert A. Rathbun, 2647 Anson Road, was convicted of dangerous driving in city police court yesterday as a result of an accident that sent three persons to hospital July 28.

"I find you responsible for this accident and demand you until tomorrow for judgment," Magistrate A. L. Thomas told him after Rathbun's lawyer, David G. Sloan, asserted that nowhere in the evidence was there any indication of dangerous driving.

Mr. Sloan had also contended that Thomas R. Handyside, 1234 Dallas Road, driver of the other car in the collision at the intersection of Superior and Menzies Streets, seemed more to blame.

DRIVER FINED

At the same sitting of the court, Andrew St. Clair was fined $25 after Magistrate Thomas found him guilty of careless driving.

St. Clair was charged August 13 after an accident at the intersection of Port and Government Streets in which a Vancouver girl, Doreen Butler, was injured.

Lloyd Newton, 667 Ralph Street, was remanded to Friday after appearing in court to plead not guilty.

CHARGE INVOLVES WOOD

The charge reads that he attempted to defraud J. Demuk by obtaining from him $6 for a quantity of wood represented as 85 per cent fir "when in truth it was not 85 per cent fir." Newton's lawyer is P. J. Sinnott.

Robert Ackhurst, 1143 Wychbury Avenue, was remanded until Monday after pleading not guilty to a charge of obtaining money under false pretences.

Canadian Universities in Difficulties

THE Royal Commission on Arts, Culture and the Sciences is turning up some useful information on the progress of Canada in cultural ways. Mostly, as is only to be expected in a new country, it is a record of needs and lacks remaining to be filled. Superimposed on that is the passing of an era in which private benefaction supplied what the young nation was not able to do out of the public purse. Today Canada has grown and matured, and the time is coming, if it has not already come, when some of these gaps will have to be filled.

A sample case is that of the Canadian universities. In the late war and for some three years after it they did yeoman service in the graduate and post-graduate training of ex-service personnel. This, however, was a state-assisted scheme. Service men and women were supplied with Federal credits to pay their way through their tuition. Most of those so helped have given a steady account of themselves, so that the scheme has paid for itself richly in developed human values.

What comes next? Is Canada now to abandon the plan which led to what amounted to mass scholarships? The universities have enlarged their facilities, increased their accommodation, extended their classes in internal and external ways. Now they are reaching the end of the post-war peak in their halls. It is natural that they should turn to the Dominion, as the national agency, to see what help they can expect from that quarter.

It is not unreasonable to expect the Dominion to go part of the way with Canadian universities in a capital-building program. Apart from war and postwar pressures, a limited system of national scholarships would be a very fine thing for this land, affording direct aid to those who can absorb advanced education and who are without the means of getting it. There is a critical angle in the issue, too; no university can become so closely linked with the treasury that it becomes its tool. Learning must continue free, or it will become valueless. In between, however, there is much that Canada could and should do to help these established and producing institutions.

Saanich Secession Issue Should Be Decided Soon

SOMEWHAT belatedly perhaps, the Provincial Government is reported to be considering the petition for secession of Ward Six from Saanich District Municipality. Final decision as to what position the Government will take in the long-standing dispute awaits a plenary meeting of the Cabinet, and for the sake of the welfare of the community on the peninsula it is to be hoped that the meeting will not be long delayed. Nearly six weeks have passed since the petition was laid before the Cabinet.

If reports from the Legislative Buildings are correct, the Government may call for a plebiscite in Ward Six to determine the wishes of the ratepayers. This would seem to be the logical first step. The Minister of Municipal Affairs has received no help from the Saanich Council, which left unanswered his request for an expression of opinion on the issue, and must therefore be regarded as neutral. A vociferous group in Ward Six, on the other hand, has virtually demanded that the Minister exercise his powers under the Saanich Relief Act. The question is does the group represent a large enough majority of the ratepayers to justify the Government in partitioning the municipality? Only a plebiscite can answer that.

Ward Six Ratepayers' Association has put up a strong argument for secession, stressing the difficulty of reconciling rural and urban interests in a municipal council on which the rural taxpayers have minority representation. Putting aside the merits of the proposal, however, the fact stands out that the secessionists have made out a case which their opponents, if any, have not taken any steps to counter. It is small wonder, therefore, that those urging a break-away feel aggrieved at the delay in bringing the issue to a head.

Keep to the Right on City Sidewalks

CONSISTENTLY heavy crowds on city sidewalks in the downtown area of Victoria during business hours lend emphasis to the fact that there is a rule-of-the-road for pedestrians. It is "Keep to the Right." If shoppers and others would do that there would be less congestion on downtown sidewalks and foot traffic would move at a more reasonable pace. Unfortunately, too many people appear unmindful of the rule, which is a common-sense one and speaks for itself.

Another plague on sidewalks in the business area are the mid-walk conventions which seem to spring up from nowhere, and to last for minutes at a time. A knot of people will stand talking in the centre of the sidewalk, blocking foot traffic moving in both directions. If there must be a convention held in that fashion, the curbside is the place for it, alongside the parking meters.

Under present conditions, with bus loading stops every second block in the main business district, the sidewalks are congested enough as it is without these easily avoided abuses. It is good citizenship to observe the rules, and thus make the streets pleasanter for everyone. Another bad failing, and it need not occur, is the blocking of store entrances and exits where, by the nature of things, foot traffic is the heaviest of all.

A little thought would avert most of these snarls, with greater comfort to all.

STARLIGHT THEATRE

Sir,—Looking back over the events of the last three weeks in our Victoria I feel one of the outstanding happenings of this time has been the four performances of our Starlight Theatre, The Merry Widow, Firefly, Roberta, and The Song of Norway.

My husband and I feel we must express our thanks and warm appreciation of the outstanding talent of actors and actresses and dancers in acting, music and dancing which we were privileged to see and hear.

In these days of speed and rushing hither and yon, we are inclined to overlook all that has gone into the making of such performances as these and the work of organization for months ahead. So, let us pause a moment to pay tribute and thanks to talented actors and actresses and dancers; to conductors and orchestra and all who took part on the stage; also to those whose meticulous work behind the scenes made our enjoyment so complete, and last but not least, to the members of the Victoria Theatre Foundation whose foresight and citizenship has made all this possible for us to enjoy in Victoria. How fortunate we are to be able to turn our thoughts in anticipation of the performances of Victoria's Starlight Theatre next Summer.

INDIAN ALPHABET

Sir,—So "Ripley" is at it again! This is the second time (at least) that the assertion has been made which appears in Friday's Colonist, that Sequoyah the Cherokee "invented the only written alphabet used by the North American Indians." This appeared in The Edmonton Journal some twelve years ago, at which time I replied to it. Since no other such alphabet was devised in the United States, ipso facto, of course, no other was devised at all.

There are three others, at least, all in Canada and one in British Columbia. Rev. James Evans of Norway House framed the best known, the Cree Syllabic, which is used by other tribes also (1841). Archdeacon Robert McDonald constructed a Tukudh syllabary for the Yukon Indians about the eighteen-seventies. Father Morice of the Stuart Lake country north of Prince George perfected a most elaborate syllabary for the Takulit (Carrier), among whom he was working. I believe Father Morice went in there about 1878 or 1880. In addition to these, a French Catholic missionary to some lower Fraser River tribe adapted some shorthand system to the same purpose. (See Morice's History of the Catholic Church in Western Canada). The other two I have mentioned were Methodist and Anglican missionaries.

The late Archdeacon Tims of Calgary informed me some years ago that Canon Hinchcliffe, Canon H. W. G. Blocken (now of Victoria) and he himself modified Evans' Cree syllabary to suit the Blackfoot; and I have myself seen it in use among the Stoney (Assiniboine) west of Edmonton. It is unusual to meet a Cree or a Stoney who cannot read it.

FLOWER SEEDS

Sir,—I have very often thought that a large number of the people in this city have flowers in their gardens, from these flowers we are able to get millions of seeds. What is done with these seeds?

I would like to offer a suggestion that we save every possible seed and distribute them along the highway between here and Duncan. I am sure there are a lot of them which would take root.

Maybe some club could handle such an undertaking. If they did they could distribute the seeds so as not to get too many in one place.

Open Court of Inquiry Into Northland Crash

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24 (CP).—A court of inquiry today opened an investigation into the crash in Northern Manitoba bushlands of an R.C.A.F. amphibious Canoe aircraft in which 21 persons died.

As searchers continued hunting through the wreckage for the bodies of victims, the investigation—Wing Cmdr. W. G. Webster and Ptl. L. A. H. Collins, of Rivers, Man., and W. J. Wilson, of Winnipeg, were in charge.

The Canoe crashed through the bush after missing a lake by such a close margin passengers must have thought it was going to be a smooth landing, said one eyewitness.

"The lake is about half a mile in diameter. About 20 feet from the shore and rocky shore, the plane started its fatal crash. The swath Aboard the plane when it crashed Sunday night at a spot about 80 miles east of Norway House, Man., were 13 white persons and eight Eskimos. The plane was on a 600-mile trip from the Hudson Bay port of Churchill to Winnipeg.

Eyewitnesses who flew to the scene expressed certainty that no one was alive immediately after the crash. The Canoe crashed through the bush after missing a lake by such a close margin passengers must have thought it was going to be a smooth landing, said one eyewitness.

Parallel to the swath was a larger lake about three miles wide, joined to the first one by a narrow, marshy neck.

One witness said it appeared that the Canoe's pilot might have been descending for a landing on the smaller lake when, catching sight of the larger one, he tried to swing the aircraft towards it and instead came upon an outcropping about 25 feet high at the end of the small lake.

Atlantic Pact Put Into Force

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP).—In Canadian Embassy in Washington, a simple White House ceremony, the United States today committed itself through the Atlantic Pact to time up with Britain and Canada to resist any attack on Western Europe.

Russia is thus confronted with one of history's greatest peacetime combinations of potential military power.

The final steps necessary to bring the 12-power alliance legally into existence were taken in President Truman's oval office in the presence of State Secretary Acheson, Defence Secretary Johnson and diplomats representing most of the other member powers.

H. Scrimshaw Dies in Garden

Henry Scrimshaw, about 60, was found dead in the back garden of his Wilkes Road home, Seaside police reported yesterday afternoon. He was found there by neighbors while his wife was shopping, police said. Constable Leslie Ledson took him to hospital where he was pronounced dead. The body was then removed to Seaside Mortuary.

He also asserted that "this is a momentous occasion not only for all the signatories of the treaty but for all peoples who share our profound desire for stability and peace."

His signature on the proclamation brought into force a pledge by all 12 countries to take whatever action each considers necessary to resist an attack on any one of them.

A nomination convention held here yesterday agreed to hold April elections which took away control from Communist-sponsored candidates by three seats to two on the five-man district board.

However, only two places on the board will be contested.

Dave McGhee of Kimberley has already been named new secretary to succeed Ken Smith. George Anderson of Copper Mountain, will be the new District One board member, with Glen Osborne, Bralorne, assuming position of District Three member.

Positions to be contested are for presidency and District Two board member, which includes Kimberley and Trail.

Noted Churchman Dies in Scotland

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (AP).—Very Rev. Dr. J. R. P. Slater, 73, Moderator of the United Church of Canada from 1942 to 1944, died in Edinburgh, Scotland, last night, church officials were advised today.

During his moderatorship and up to his death, Dr. Slater was a leader of those negotiating for Christian unity, especially between the Church of England in Canada and the United Church.

He left his church, old St. Andrew's Church, Toronto, earlier this summer for a visit to the United Kingdom. He had preached in Edinburgh and consulted with leaders working for unity between the Church of England and the Church of Scotland.

Write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your free copy of a 16-page recipe booklet called "Pickling Success". I'd stock up on PICKLE WHITE VINEGAR.

When you are shopping for vegetables and fruits for canning, you must on the best! Why not do the same with vinegar? Heinz White Vinegar is made from corn, barley, malt and rye—distilled and then aged in wood to bring out the full aroma and flavour. Excellent—not only for pickling and preserving—but for salads and table use, too!

Is Your Family The Kind That Skips Breakfast—for all sorts of reasons? You can banish the alibi in short order if you serve delicious 5 Minute "CREAM OF WHEAT"! It's so good—and so good for you! For 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" contains Iron, Calcium and Phosphorus for diet deficient in these elements. Yes, a "Cream of Wheat" breakfast makes good sense—and good eating! Serve "Cream of Wheat" tomorrow morning—like this: Chop dried apricots, figs and raisins. Sauté together and flavor with lemon juice. Use for topping on "Cream of Wheat".

It's A Good Idea To Teach Your Children To Swim while they're still very young (about six or seven). Then they have no fear of water and enjoy splashing about like young porpoises! It's a good idea, too, to keep handy an extra large supply of HARVEST MARGARINE for your active youngsters! You see, dairy-fresh "Harvest" is not only a real taste-treat—it's also nutritious. For it contains Vitamin "A"—the "body-building" vitamin. Your children will love "Harvest" on their breakfast toast—and their bedtime crackers-with-milk! Ask your grocer for "Harvest" tomorrow... but be sure to shop early—for Harvest Margarine is so good, it's always sold first!

Safety Council Dollar Will Be Used For Publicity to Reduce Traffic Toll

Officials of the Greater Victoria Traffic and Safety Council hastened yesterday to correct misapprehensions among the driving public of the city which seemed to have arisen over the council's membership drive.

Service station attendants throughout the Greater Victoria area who were given the task of distributing the $1 membership pledges and accompanying car stickers, have been urged to stop in the points to insure publicity and educational programs aimed at improving the driving standards and the traffic conditions here, he explained.

The council here is modelled on principles advanced by the National Safety Council and is promoting the same campaign that has resulted in a 30 to 40 per cent reduction in traffic accidents in other United States and Canadian cities, officials stated.

Block memberships in the council have already been taken out for drivers of Hudson's Bay Company, Eaton's, Vancouver Island Coach Lines and B.C. Electric bus drivers, it is reported.

Planned for the future are prize awards for essay and other competitions that will spark the council's safety drive.

Main principle of the campaign is that of public participation, C. J. Decker, executive secretary of the council states, in appealing for support from the motorists of this area.

He said that the council intended to work also with the school children on a program aimed at educating to high safety standards "the motorists of tomorrow."

Present headquarters of the safety council's membership drive is 843 Yates Street, telephone number is R 2413, it is announced.

Says Majority Ignored On New School

PARKSVILLE, Aug. 24.—The School Action Committee of the Parksville and District Chamber of Commerce is continuing to oppose the location of the proposed new junior-senior high school.

They say they are willing to send a delegation to Victoria for further discussion with education authorities.

The committee said also in its letter that it believes that if the school-by-law were resubmitted, it would be defeated again.

Members of the committee urge a compromise solution. Their letter was in reply to an earlier letter from the Minister of Education, stating that the school district would not be split and suggesting that the taxpayers did not understand the issues involved when the by-law was defeated June 27.

FRIED EGG AND ONION SANDWICH—Beat 1 egg with fork; add 1/2 small onion, chopped up; add salt and paprika; bread crumbs. Cut the meat into cubes. Make a sauce of the butter, onion, flour and liquids; add the veal and mushroom and season to taste with salt and paprika. Cover with bread crumbs and bake in 400 degrees for 30 minutes. This serves eight people.

FRIDAY

Luncheon—Fish chowder, toasted crackers, tossed salad, French dressing, unsweetened bread, chocolate nut cookies, tea.

Dinner—Tomato juice cocktail, steamed fish, egg sauce, parsley potato balls, green peas, dressed lettuce, peach shortcake, coffee.

BOSTON FISH CHOWDER—Two pounds cooked flaked haddock or cod or mixed, 4 ounces salt pork, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 cup milk, 1 cup mushroom stock, 1 cup cream, 1 cup button mushrooms.

Fresh cod, haddock, halibut or bluefish can be used. Use an old-fashioned steamer set over a kettle of boiling water. (A collander will answer the purpose for a small quantity of fish.)

Wrap fish in a piece of clean cheesecloth. Place in steamer. Cover tightly and steam till fish is tender, 25 to 30 minutes. (Potatoes can be boiled in kettle also.) Remove from cheesecloth and place in a hot serving dish. Pour a hot egg sauce over top and serve. Make sauce as follows: Hard boil 2 eggs. Make a white sauce of 3 level tablespoons each, butter and flour, 1 tablespoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 2 cups milk. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and the hard-boiled eggs sliced. Serve hot on fish.

SATURDAY

Breakfast—Sliced peaches, wheat cereal, cream, bacon and eggs, toasted scones, jam, coffee.

Luncheon—Broiled tomatoes with olive sauce, coffee jelly, whipped cream, iced tea.

Dinner—Tomato bisque, jellied tongue, potato chips, sliced tomatoes, celery, olives, pickles, lemon snow pudding, custard sauce, coffee.

BROILED TOMATOES WITH OLIVE SAUCE—Cut 6 tomatoes in halves, crosswise. Brush cut sides with two tablespoons melted butter. Top with 1/4 cup fine breadcrumbs mixed with 2 tablespoons grated cheese, salt, pepper. Broil under moderate heat until lightly browned. Serve with olive sauce: 1 1/2 cups white sauce, 1 egg beaten, 1/4 cup light cream, 1/2 cup chopped stuffed olives.

JELLIED TONGUE—Boil a tongue until tender. When cold, press into a mold (use a bread pan, if you like). Into a pint of the liquid tongue was boiled in, stir 2 tablespoons gelatin. When thoroughly dissolved pour around into mold. Set away until jellied. Slice and serve with sweet pickle rings, a salad or potato chips.

SUNDAY

Breakfast—Cantaloupe, dry cereal, cream, bacon, omelet, blueberry muffins, coffee.

Dinner—Vegetable juice, roast leg of veal, French baked potatoes, scalloped onions, buttered carrots, celery, olives, pickles, plum Betty, coffee.

Supper—Cold sliced veal, gelatin salad, hot clover rolls, sliced peaches, cream, tea.

GELATIN SALAD—Dissolve 1 package lemon gelatin in 2 cups boiling water, add 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon paprika, and chill until it begins to thicken. Pour into mold. When it is very thick, but not set, press triangles of canned pineapple down into mixture. Chill until firm, unmold on large platter and surround with shredded lettuce. Serve with French dressing, to which has been added cream cheese rubbed through sieve.

MONDAY

CURRY SAUCE—Two tablespoons margarine, 1 clove garlic, chopped; 1 medium onion chopped; 1-inch ginger root, chopped; 1/2 teaspoon brown sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon curry powder, 2 cups stock. Melt margarine in skillet. Add chopped onion, garlic and ginger and fry until light brown. Add curry powder, sugar, flour and salt and

Supper Peas

One-half cup finely chopped onion, 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms, 2 tablespoons boiling water, 3 tablespoons bacon fat, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 cup cooked peas, 2 hard-cooked eggs.

Cook onions, mushrooms and water in closely covered saucepan for 5 minutes. Melt fat, blend in flour and seasonings. Slowly add milk, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add mushroom-onion mixture, peas and coarsely-chopped, hard-cooked eggs. Cook until thoroughly heated and serve on split hot biscuits or in patty shells. Yield: six servings.

mix well. Add stock (make from bouillon cubes if necessary). Stir until smooth and thickened. Remove pieces of ginger root. (Use dried ginger if no fresh root is obtainable.) BLUEBERRY PUDDING—One box blueberries, 2 slices of lemon, 1 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cups water. Mix. Let come to boiling point and boil 5 minutes. Take nine slices of bread, with crusts off, and butter both sides. Put three slices in

Little Stories for Bedtime

JOHNNY CHUCK'S QUEER CHRISTMAS

"I wish you a happy Christmas. That means more than just a Merry Christmas. Nothing equals true happiness, so I wish you again a happy Christmas."

—Peter Rabbit.

It just happened that it was on Christmas morning that Peter Rabbit was frightened by Bowser the Hound into seeking safety in Johnny Chuck's house. There wasn't anything about Johnny Chuck's house to make anyone think of Christmas. No, sir, there wasn't the least thing about that house to remind anybody of the joy of Christmas. In fact, there was nothing to suggest any kind of joy. You have seen a house closed for the Winter—everybody gone away. Of course you have. There is nothing joyous about such a house, is there? Well, Johnny Chuck's house was just like that. It is true that Johnny Chuck hadn't gone away. He was still there, but he might just as well have been away.

You see it was this way: When Peter had found himself actually inside Johnny Chuck's doorway, his curiosity at once suggested that he should take this chance to see just how Johnny Chuck looked when he is asleep for the Winter. Peter's better feelings had urged him not to, but his curiosity was the stronger and so Peter had crept down the long hall to Johnny Chuck's bedroom at the end. There was one thing Peter noticed before he reached Johnny's bedroom and this was that it was decidedly warmer down there than up near the doorway. In fact, it was quite comfortably warm, and also it was dry down there. Johnny had wisely dug below the deepest point to which Jack Frost would be able to freeze the ground. Jack Frost couldn't possibly reach in and pinch him there.

When at last Peter reached Johnny-Chuck's bedroom, he paused for some time. He was afraid to go in. He didn't know why, but he was afraid. He wanted to run away—to get outside. It just didn't seem the time since the first cold weather weeks before. It gave Peter that funny, creepy feeling more than ever.

So Peter had paused for a long time at the entrance to Johnny stole in very much like a thief. Johnny Chuck was there curled up in his bed of dry grass. He didn't move. He didn't make the least sign that he knew Peter was there. Peter thumped the floor lightly with one of his hind feet. Many times in the Summer had he thumped to Johnny Chuck in just that way. At the same time he cried "Merry Christmas!"

Nothing happened. Johnny Chuck made no reply. He didn't move. Peter reached out—and touched him gently. Johnny showed no signs of having felt that touch push, but he might just as well have pushed a stone or a block of wood. Somehow Johnny Chuck didn't even real.

Yet Johnny Chuck was real, just as real as Bowser the Hound. He was just as much alive as was Bowser the Hound, although he showed no signs of life that Peter could discover. The truth is Johnny was spending Christmas just as he has spent every day of the Winter—far and just as he would spend the remainder of the Winter—sleeping. Wasn't that a queer way to spend Christmas? Yet Johnny Chuck, queer Christmas was the only kind of a Christmas in which he could have been anything but unhappy. It was a queer Christmas, as you look at it or as I look at it, but as Johnny Chuck looks at it, it wasn't queer at all. So there you are!

Playground Day Opens Drive For James Bay Tennis Courts

Initial phase of a drive to provide tennis courts in the James Bay area got under way yesterday with the holding of a community playground day at James Bay Park.

Events included inter-park games, tumbling, and a display of summer playground handicrafts. The program was officially opened by Park Superintendent W. H. Warren. Also in attendance were Ald. D. D. McTavish; city playground director, Gordon Hartley, and Dr. H. R. Anderson, director Greater Victoria Recreational Council.

Unique method of raising funds was the "dress of a thousand pockets" worn by Pat Noel. Youngsters paid pennies, nickels and dimes for candies, toys and other "presents" in the pockets. Also helping to raise money were guessing contests and a fortune-telling booth.

SPORTS WINNERS

Winners of the deck tennis tournament were Anne Firth and Nan Baxter, both of Beacon Hill Park, with Betty Little runner-up. The tether-ball contest was won by Clement Nadin, Beacon Hill, who also won the horseshoe-pitching event.

Visitors watched a tumbling display by children from Beacon Hill Park under the direction of George Smith.

In charge of the program were Vivian Spicer, head of the James Bay Community Centre, and Tubbs, supervisor at Beacon Hill Park and Nancy Gray, supervisor at Todd Park.

Balance of the community tennis court campaign will be carried on by the recently-formed James Bay Tennis Court Committee.

Members include: H. G. Brown, chairman, representing James Bay Community Centre; Mrs. E. Eastwood, vice-chairman, representing James Bay P.T.A.; Mrs. M. Atkins, secretary, also of the P.T.A.; Mrs. G. Fagan, representing Eagles, Scouts and Cubs; and Mrs. T. L. Hallberg, James Bay United Church Women's Auxiliary.

Play Tourney Despite Rain

The Victoria Playgrounds public tennis tournament yesterday at Stadacona Park was interrupted by rain, but several matches were played with the favorites advancing easily.

Today's draw: Girls' singles—At 10 a.m., B. Koski vs. N. Allas; 2 p.m., G. Koski vs. M. Eathly, winner of 10 a.m. match vs. B. Graham. Boys' singles—At 10 a.m., Holmes vs. Corbett; 1 p.m., Pickering vs. Anderson; 2 p.m., Worthy vs. Culhane, and winner of 10 a.m. match vs. winner of 1 p.m. match. Boys' doubles—At 11 a.m., Crozier and Kirkham vs. Shouldice and Curtis.

Decline Seen In V.D. Cases

Reported cases of venereal disease in British Columbia reached a total of 1,026 during the second quarter of 1949, according to figures released by the Department of Health and Welfare.

The total represented a decline in incidence from figures published for the first quarter of the year with a decrease of 0.7 being noted.

BROADSTAIRS, England (C.P.)—Called to a cornfield fire, Broadstairs brigade traveled over stubble to reach it. Straw caught in the axles, burst into flames and seriously damaged the engine. It was the brigade's 13th call to field fires.

CHAPTER V

"And I'm not ready to let you. Not until I've told you again how much I love you. Not until you've said that you still love me."

However, neither of them said anything more for a long while. Because he had put his arm around her and bent his head. Then she had lifted her face to receive his kiss and to hurry right along and bring me the good news."

"What do you mean, hopeless?" "I mean she's going to be an invalid all her life. And her life's going to be a long one. Cheerful prospect all around, isn't it?"

"I'll say it is. Why, Leonce, I don't see how we can stand it—any of us! Odile's so depressed anyway that, if she gets to dwelling on endless invalidism, she'll lapse into melancholia. The first thing we know, she'll be a mental case."

"She's pretty nearly that already. Anyway, there isn't much of the physical left to her."

"You don't need to be quite so crude about it, do you?"

"I'm not so sure. After all, you asked me why I thought it might be better to use a dealer's car for our little expedition."

"But we're just going out for a ride in the country. Anyone can go for a ride in the country."

"Yeah. And anyone can stop at a tourist camp and rest for a couple of hours, if they get tired while they're out riding in the country. I thought we might, so I picked out used car one of our customers brought in from Biloxi. It's got a Mississippi licence plate on it. And, just in case the operator of the camp decided to take out his rental income with a spot of minor blackmail, it might be darned handy if—"

"Leonce, you know you never said—"

"Oh, I know I never said! My heavens, you do need everything spelled out for you! You're crazy about me, at least you've been saying you were for the last couple of months now, and I'm crazy about you, and I'm married and my wife's going to live forever. So what? You don't want me to kill her, do you, so I can marry you? And you don't want to kill her yourself, I suppose, so you can marry me? And divorce doesn't enter the picture because we're all good practicing Catholics. She'll never know about this, Carosse."

He settled back in his seat, driving faster and faster.

"For heaven's sake, Leonce, take it easy! Can't you look where you're going? Do you know where you're going anyway? I never saw this road before—if you can call it a road."

"You let it be a road. It's the cut-off from Chalmerte to Gently. And we're heading for that tourist camp I've been talking about. Only, instead of approaching it from the New Orleans side, we'll be coming from the east, in a car with a Mississippi licence, as though we'd driven over to New Orleans from somewhere along the Gulf Coast."

Permit Issued For Apartment

A permit was issued yesterday by the city building inspector authorizing construction of a 58-suite $150,000 apartment hotel at 700 Belleville Street.

The permit listed H. L. Bevan, 3540 Midland Road, as the owner of the property.

Officials said the two-story building would measure 200 feet by 50 feet. A start has already been made on the excavation for the building.

Birley, Wade & Stockdill were listed as the architects, Dillabough & Luney as the contractors.

A permit was issued also to the Hudson's Bay Company authorizing alterations and fittings estimated to cost $38,000 to their store at Douglas and Flagstaff Streets.

A permit authorizing construction of a $9,570 poultry processing plant at 2851 Douglas Street was issued to Chan Sing, 930 Green Street.

"KISS ME KATE"

AS I LOOK OUT MY WINDOW... down here at the store, I can see the wreckers... by the score. Demolishing old buildings across the way, for a new Post Office... some future day, I sit here & think... then, silently wonder, if SOMEONE isn't making... another blunder. Because with buildings... you GOTTA admit, we surely can make... a mess of it. 'Course I may be wrong & full of pride, & if I am... I'll TAKE... the harpoons. But it looks to me... as I gaze at these scars, they've made NO provision... for parking cars. What fun it will be when the weather is damp, to walk to blocks to buy a stamp. And imagine the fun at Christmas time, no provision for parking... seems a crime. Gives one a jolt... a bit to a jar. "Why—There's No Place To Park A Car." But maybe I'm wrong... & shouldn't roast, or maybe they'll build... a hitching post. But if their thinking IS so muggy, we'd be better to go back to the horse 'n buggy. They talk of town planning... now HERE we have our chance, will SOMEONE please call... an ambulance. Come & get me... take me away, cause Post Office too... I'd like to play. Just like we did at parties... teen-age, at "counting-the-stars" we did engage. So please come & get me, as I fear, I need to be taken... out of here. I can't bear it. I won't be sound, when the cars start going... round & round. Hopelessly... looking for a place to park, I'm going mad... raving stark. So hurry... hurry... before it's too late, I wanna play Post Office... KISS ME KATE.

I shouldn't sit down & bank stuff out like this, (& without stopping) unless I know FOR SURE what I'm talking about, but as I didn't have any time last night, or any "grist for this mill" either I just sat here this A.M. looked out the window & the above is the first thing that popped into my head, and anyway I had to help the G.P. last night as she's up to her elbows in making jabs, as I keep bringing in carloads of peaches, tons of apricots, and buckets of blackberries, and she is so rattled the pressure cooker blows off steam every time she gets it right and makes such a mighty noise, she thinks she's been shot, but she just stuffs her blouse back in her skirt, wipes her brow, and when I say "where will I put these," she shouts back that it may have taken nature 8 months to silently produce this harvest, it didn't have to bring the whole shooting match ripe at the same time, and expect her to get it all in thousands of little bottles in one night... so you see the handicaps a poet works under, with a pencil in one hand a sheet of paper tacked to the wall, and a bottle of Certo stuffed in his pants pocket... & why he gives it up as a bad job, & comes down here, stares out the window, and takes a poke at the Government. I just saw the fellows bringing in what looks like a pretty sharp Sectional Chesterfield, & it looks from here it is a wool frieze (freer-a) in a soft sandalwood cover.

These section-al suites are great stuff, just dandy when U entertain and want to play musical chairs. The G.F. just phoned & bawled, "I've been shot again."

Mass Herring Death Mystery to Experts

Marine News

On March 20 of this year Fisheries Inspector J. Fielden discovered a large and compact body of dead herring in Mud Bay—half a mile south of Big Bay, Chatham Sound.

The mass of dead fish measured about 190 yards in length, and approximately 35 yards in width, and it has been estimated that "in excess of 1,000 tons of herring" were involved. The fish mass was from one to three feet deep.

A considerable quantity of blood surrounded the mass of fish. No seaquils or other birds were feeding on them, although this was probably due to the abundance of herring spawning nearby.

The discovery was a mystery to the Fisheries Department, and an intensive investigation was made. No public report has been made up to the present time. Death of the herring remains a mystery.

Several suggestions have been offered, however.

J. C. Stevenson, assistant biologist in charge of the herring investigation phase of the Pacific Biological Station at Nanaimo, says it is possible that some predator—possibly blackfish—might have driven the fish ashore on a falling tide.

SEE SCANT EFFECT

Shipping circles here do not place great significance on a report from Washington, D.C., to the effect that Canadian ships will henceforth be allowed to transport freight and passengers in United States waters between Alaska and United States ports.

Such a bill was signed by President Truman Tuesday.

Should any Canadian ships participate in such operations, it would likely be between Alaska ports only. There may be the day when a Canadian freighter might be able to conveniently carry a cargo from a United States Pacific Northwest port to Seattle, but only if there are no American ships available at the time.

One shipping authority here yesterday said any large-scale operations between the United States proper and Alaska by Canadian ships would be impossible because of the seamen's unions.

Moore Named Business Head Of Solarium

Clarence E. Moore, 1558 Beach Drive, has been appointed by the board of directors of the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children, to control all the solarium physical assets and business administration, it was announced yesterday.

His appointment was made necessary by the resignation as administrator and appointment to the board of T. W. S. Parsons a few months ago.

Mr. Moore's appointment will relieve D. Glenn Simpson, superintendent, and Miss Dorothy Andrew, assistant superintendent, of many business matters and allow them to devote their full time to the medical side of the solarium's activities.

The board also announced the resignation of S. Blyth as accountant on Vancouver Island. One million trees were planted by industry.
